The Rotary Club

Toronto Convention Is Describer In Entertaining Manner By Harold Clifford

Rotarians heard a fine account at their meeting Friday of the International Convention at Toronto, from Harold Clifford, who represented Rockland and Damariscotta as well as his own club, Boothbay Harbor, at the convention.
Mr. Clifford spoke with enthusiasm of Rotary contacts an education gained from such a gathering. He paid glowing tribute to Paul Harris, founder of Rotary, who was among the speakers. Mr. Clifford then described in an interesting way his tour of Canada which took him to Edmonton, Calgary, Winnipeg, and Vancouver. "A splendid talk," was the verdict of Rockland Rotarians.

At the conclusion of the meeting, President Maurice Lovejoy presented the speaker with two books, in recognition of his services to the club.

C. W. Babb, Camden; George W. Scott, Belfast; and Victor Marshall of Augusta were visiting Rotarians and Andrew Stratton of Plymouth, Mass., was a guest.

Gasoline Users!

Rationing Board Gives Important Notice With Oct. 22 As Deadline

Renewal applications for short-term supplemental gasoline rations have been receivable at the office of the local Rationing Board since Sept. 22. In order to insure an uninterrupted supply of gasoline, most of these renewals must be completed by Oct. 22.

Experience has taught that too many people wait until the last day or so and then stand in line, wasting their own time, overworking the Rationing Board and its clerical force, and accomplishing nothing that could not have been done in more orderly fashion.

Notice is hereby given that the local Board will not take extraordinary measures to care for a last-minute rush. If you must make a renewal application, get it now. You will get just as much—or as little—gasoline as you will if you wait until the last day.

Applicants for renewal are asked to note carefully the following requirements, with which they must comply:

(1) All the requirements that applied to an original application also apply to a renewal, unless the applicant's circumstances have changed.
(2) Requests for renewals may be sent in by mail, but the applicant must personally sign the renewal certification in the space provided. Signature by an agent is not permissible.

(3) Vehicle registration certification need not be mailed in with the renewal application, but it must be presented when the applicant appears for his ration book.
(4) Ration books will not be mailed to the applicant. They must be applied for in person at the Board office.
(5) A renewal ration does not become effective, and may not be used, until after the expiration date of the current ration.

(6) Books must be turned in to the local Board within five days after expiration. This applies whether or not there are coupons left in the book.

(7) Those who must make renewal applications will be notified by mail of the day and time when they should appear for renewal. In order that the matter be handled in a systematic way these notices should be strictly complied with.

[EDITORIAL]

THE TURN OF THE TIDE

That the Republicans will gain quite a few Congressional seats, but that the Democrats will remain in the majority, is the conclusion reached by the Gallup poll, taken one month in advance of the November elections. Interviews in selected areas the past fortnight show these figures. Estimated Democratic seats, 248; estimated Republican seats, 183; other parties, 4. These figures are based upon an extremely light vote—perhaps 30,000,000. On the basis of 40,000,000 attending the polls the figures, Dr. Gallup says, would be 270 and 160; and on the basis of 50,000,000, they would be 294 and 136. The chief Republican gains are likely to come in the Middle Atlantic and the East Central areas, the band of States stretching from New York and New Jersey westward to Illinois and Michigan. That is where the past two weeks' polling has indicated the greatest proportion of Democratic seat losses.

DANGER IN THE DARK

Travel by night throughout our darkened city, especially during a blackout, is nothing if not extremely hazardous, and the policy of urging the citizens to remain in their own domicile after the alert has sounded is undoubtedly a wise one. But within the environments of our own homes danger lurks, as evidenced in the last blackout when one woman suffered a broken leg by falling down stairs. Tiny flashlights are invaluable and certainly everybody should respect the heed of caution.

THE WANING W. P. A.

The W.P.A., which proved such an important factor in the construction of the Rockland Municipal Airport, will not be concerned in the new airport program, according to State Administrator John C. Fitzgerald, who has lately returned from Washington. The impression around the National Capitol is couched in the expressive words "washed up," the unemployed, for the most part, being well taken care of by the extraordinary demand for labor.

Of tremendous historical value are those cannon which Gen. Henry Knox dragged from Fort Ticonderoga in the dead of winter, to drive the British out of Boston during the American Revolution. Shall these sacred mementoes of the American Revolution be sacrificed on the scrap heap? That is a very vital question in which the County named in the General's honor should have a vital interest. Here is what the Boston Herald said editorially on the subject:

"One of the cannon that Gen. Henry Knox dragged on sledges from Fort Ticonderoga to drive the British from Boston in the Revolution has been hauled from the Cambridge Common to go into the scrap drive. It and two others on the Common are reputed to be the only pieces of the first American artillery in existence. The move of the Cambridge Council to consign them to the war effort has aroused antiquarians and patriotic societies.

"Should they be spared? The amount of metal they represent will hardly make the difference between victory and defeat. But their preservation might be taken by the general public as a sign that the need for scrap was less urgent than it is. They might become to various persons an excuse for cherishing family relics that should go into the drive because in the aggregate they represent a tremendous amount of vitally needed material. We cannot afford the slightest slackening in the public zeal for gathering scrap.

"On the other hand, these guns are unique. They symbolize something very precious, something we are fighting for today. Even these we will sacrifice when the time comes, but before then let us use the less sacred things. We should, perhaps, establish a priority list for salvage of public objects, with these cannon well down toward the end, to be taken, say, just before the Liberty Bell, but after the fences around Harvard and the Boston Common.

"For the present these cannon will not be scrapped. But those who continue to see them on the Common should be reminded of the sacrifices of their forefathers, and sacrifice their own time and energy for a similar cause."

The decidedly practical suggestion is made by Dudley M. Holman that the Knox Memorial Association pledge itself to supply three times as much scrap as could be obtained from these cannon, and protest against their conversion into scrap. The proper place for their safekeeping is at the Knox Memorial "Montpelier," says Mr. Holman, who adds that a sympathetic response would probably be forthcoming from Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, if the matter were brought to his attention.

AN EMERGENCY NEED

The City of Rockland needs Firemen very badly, members of the regular department and auxiliary alike. This need is acute and extremely serious. The draft and war industries have depleted the man power of the department until a highly dangerous shortage exists.

Every man who can is urged to volunteer his services to the very grave need on the home front. Please report to or send your name to

New Ambulance

The Thomaston Motor Corps Members Have Bought One For Themselves Through Citizens' Aid

The Motor Corps has bought a panel truck for use as an ambulance in its defense work. Heretofore it has relied entirely upon beach wagons which have been generously loaned by three townspeople, and while the use of these will be continued in the future, it was deemed necessary by the Motor Corps, both because of its additional duty of regularly transporting donations of blood from Knox Hospital to Damariscotta, and because of the scarcity of tires, that it should have available for use at all times at least one ambulance. This group of efficient women have the reputation of being the best trained of the defense personnel. Their time has been freely given, over a long period, to training comparing to that of a regular Army ambulance corps. It has included motor mechanics, first aid, map reading, convoy duty, close order drill, stretcher bearing, and rifle practice. In addition to this program of hard work it has had the emergency and spirit to earn the money for all its equipment which includes stretchers, blankets, first aid kits and uniforms. And now it has undertaken to furnish payment for its own ambulance, the money for which has been advanced by five public spirited citizens, for whose encouragement and aid the Corps is deeply grateful.

It also bespeaks the help of the rest of the town in supporting the means which it proposes to take to raise the money for repayment of the debt it has incurred, the first of which will be the Halloween party and dancing Oct. 30. The Corps stands ready day or night for service for the common good in case of emergency in any part of Knox County. Besides, it takes its part in the defense work of our town, rendering first aid and ambulance service.

The organization which is recommended as worthy of confidence and support, is made up of thus: Alva Noble captain, Barbara Balchelder 1st lieutenant, Hazel Anzalone 2d lieutenant, Annie Rogers, Edna Keyes, Olive Fales, Ruth Maxcy, Pearl MacFarland, Betty Barton, Ella Andrews, Elizabeth Carter, Ingrid Nelson, Priscilla Robinson, Charlotte Caddy, Margaret Morton, Catherine Carroll, Helen Elliot.
Every Tuesday at 7:30 at Watson's hall a drill meeting is held. Rifle practice is held at the State Police Barracks at 7 Thursdays. The Corps is in need of recruits and invites anyone interested, who can qualify, to join.

Lady Knox Chapter

Lady Knox Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their October meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Ladd. Those assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Donald H. Fuller, Miss Marion Weidman, Mrs. J. F. Rich, and Mrs. Annie Simmons. There were 16 present.

In the absence of the Regent, Mrs. George L. St. Clair presided. The resignation of Mrs. E. Carl Moran as Regent, was read. Action to be taken at the November meeting.

A moment of silent prayer was observed for three members of the Chapter recently deceased—Mrs. Euretta Annatoyn, Mrs. Helen Carlson and Miss Ada Perry.

It was voted to purchase the book "Sons of Liberty" for a Southern Children's Club, sponsored by "The Correct Use of the Flag" committee. A fine report of the Fall State meeting, held at Brunswick in September, was given by Mrs. Charles Rose.

Supt. F. L. S. Morse was present as guest speaker. He gave many historical facts regarding the Penobscot Bay region and interspersed his talk with original poems, both serious and humorous. The afternoon was much enjoyed.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the program.

Putting your best foot forward is okay—but you make progress only if you pull the other one along, too.

The Blue Stamp List

Fresh Pears Are Removed—What May Be Bought In October

Blue Stamp foods for October comprise the same listing as that for September, with the exception of fresh pears, which have been removed from the current list, it was announced today by Charles M. Quinn, local representative of the Agricultural Marketing Administration, in charge of Stamp Program operations here.

Mr. Quinn pointed out that the variety of fresh vegetables and staples, including enriched flour and fresh eggs, available in extra amounts to some 3,000,000 public aid persons, helps raise the nation's health level and at the same time helps stabilize farmers' markets. This stabilization device helps maintain the high food production necessary to meet wartime needs.

Removal of pears from the Blue Food Stamp list, Mr. Quinn added, is in accordance with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's wartime program, designed to make best use of the nation's food supply by encouraging, where needed, the market support of seasonal over-supplies of perishable crops.

The Complete Blue Stamp Food list issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for the month of October in all Stamp Program areas is as follows: Fresh apples, all fresh vegetables including Irish and sweet potatoes, shell eggs, corn meal, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (graham) flour.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

A Rockland merchant found himself in a state of great perplexity yesterday forenoon when he discovered that he had not given a customer sufficient change by $5. The customer was a woman with whom he was not acquainted, but as soon as he learned of the mistake he hastened up and down the street in a vain attempt to find her. He promptly entered an advertisement for today's paper—and perhaps, The Black Cat may help.

What Knox County family has the largest number of boys in the service? We have read of two or three Maine towns where parents have four sons thus engaged and it has led us to wonder how the stars are running in our own district.

A mystic is like a blind man in a dark room chasing a black cat that isn't there.—N. W. L.

Richard Karl, of Rockland who is with the armed forces in the West saw the St. Louis Cardinals win their first game in the World Series at St. Louis last Thursday. Karl who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Karl of Rockland, is a baseball fan from the ground up, and was possibly the only Rockland man who saw either game in the Missouri metropolis. Eight members of the Rockland Fire Department are with the Armed forces, and this fact coupled with the many who are working in the Bath and South Portland shipyards, tells why the department is handicapped to the point which would make a fire extremely hazardous for Rockland.

Blacks vs. Blues

Co. L of Rockland Has Interesting Experiences In the Maneuvers

Company L, Maine State Guard, Capt. Burton C. White, in command, took part in the maneuvers Sunday, the opposing forces being Federal troops, designated the "Blacks," and State Guard units, designated "Blues."

Capt. White first received word that paratroops had landed at Knox Corner and the local company was mobilized and ordered to Belfast. The situation at Knox Corner had been taken care of by Company N, of Belfast and Company L, was then ordered to Winterville, where an armistice of one hour was taken up with lynch.

The company was next ordered to the Bangor armory and then sent out to Kenduskeag. Conflicts during the afternoon caused several "casualties," but the Rockland company made a good showing, and while in ambush at one time, "wiped out" one of the groups of "Blacks" which came upon them rather unexpectedly.

Action was all over at 5 p. m., and all went to the Bangor armory for a fine supper.

Officers of Company L, other than Captain White, are First Lieut. Harold Brown and Second Lieut. Ernest L. Whitney, both of Camden.

Wonderful games those in the World Series completed yesterday, and the result seems to have been gratifying the country over. Hats off to that wonderful St. Louis team which overcame a nine-game lead, to win the National League pennant and which took four straight games to win the world's championship.

I was much pleased yesterday to receive a fraternal call from John Gould, publicity man for the Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries. A very busy department, and offers much information of public interest. Mr. Gould plans to extend the work so ably conducted at intervals by Dick Reed, now with the armed forces in Colorado.

One year ago: The Knox County teachers' convention was held in Camden, Miss Mary E. Taylor of Camden being elected president—The Rockland Boat Shop launched the dragger It'lldo—Six hundred attended the Hotel Rockland reception—Five Friendship boys were in Municipal Court charged with building a fire in the public highway—Richard Irving was struck by a motor car and badly injured—Rockland High beat Skowhegan 12 to 0—Doris Borgerson was appointed assistant to Dr. Hovey of the Bates College history department—Among the deaths: Union, Mrs. Fred E. Burckett, 76; South Thomaston, J. Merrill Bartlett, 84; Camden, Cora L. Grinnell, 79; Tenant's Harbor, I. H. Balano, 90; Union, Mrs. Henry Ames; Vinalhaven, Pierce A. White, 57; Camden, Henry W. Rolfe, 86.

Osteopath Meeting

Members of Tri-County Association Entertained By a Magician

The Tri County Association of Osteopathy, including osteopaths of Waldo, Knox and Lincoln counties, met for dinner at Hotel Rockland Saturday night, in observance of the 50th anniversary of the founding of Osteopathy.

The group was entertained by Tahman Conrad of Thomaston, a magician, and there was a round table on professional topics. Dr. Verne Rice of Belfast, presided, and guests of the association were, Dr. and Mrs. George Betts, Dr. and Mrs. Scott Colpitts, Dr. Martha Gifford, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Hovey, all of Bangor, Dr. William Gifford and Dr. and Mrs. Burleigh Larlee of Old Town.

Members present were Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Randolph, Waldoboro, Dr. and Mrs. Charles DiPerrri, Wiscasset, Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Perry of Bristol, Dr. and Mrs. Irving Tuttle, Union, Dr. James Kent and Dr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Scarlott, Rockland, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Pettapiece, Camden, and Dr. Rice.

Soft on the ear
The silver note
Of the bright sea's
Eternal roar.
Here is a song
That is immortal,
Like a low wind
At some low portal
Spindrift and gulls
Wing scudding by;
Leaning sail
On a Summer sky.
Here is the fall
Of spray to the hand;
Here is the tide-pool,

Book Review

(By E. S. F.)

Michael Shayne Takes Over. Author, Brett Halliday. Published by Henry Holt and Company, New York.

This is about "Tops" in the gory and tough class of mystery detective stories, and it's so hard boiled that it shrivels the reader into a feeling of numbness with the rapidity of action in hair-raising experiences.

Michael Shayne is a daring Miami, Florida, private detective who knows how to make friends and fears no enemies. He has both brain and brawn; both of which he uses to his own advantage never forgetting pay day.

The book holds four book-length adventures of the toughest detective of our times. They are "Divided on Death," "Private Practice of Michael Shayne," "The Uncomplicated Corpse," and "Bodies Are Where You Find Them." If one is looking for thrills in his reading, Michael Shayne will give it.

The characters are drawn with photographic clearness, the action is never heavy or slow, honesty would name it bloodthirsty and filled with quite enough lethal high-jinks to suit the most gory minded reader. Well bound, well printed but over heavy.

K. S. F.

Glass Mountain. A Novel by Mary Frances Dover. Doubleday, Doran Publishers, New York.

This is essentially a story of Chautauque life and its deep and spreading influence on the characters in this story of 50 years past. Its locale is the Great Lakes country, where Miss Dover has shown such agreeable ability to create characters that live in the hearts of her readers as real friends.

Here is found love, romance and vitality that is heart-warming. Those of us who live in memory and experience of the best of Chautauque years realize the greatness of its influence in giving to far removed country sections of her nation educative benefits that were life giving and uplifting to many who were otherwise denied the chance to listen to excellent lectures, brilliant musicians and all sorts of chalk-talkers and entertainers that were gathered from the four corners of this land and abroad.

The strange interweaving of destinies is well sustained, and the lovable characters hold heart interest. Eclectic adventures and happenings, triumphant successes in relentless and dogged character portrayal are clearly drawn. A truly American background, highly worthy with its realistic hazards and spirit. Read and be well entertained.

Rockland High Lost To Hallowell By That Slim Margin

Hallowell got by Rockland's 20 only once in Saturday's game at Community Park but that once was fatal.

Dow kicked to Hallowell and the Rockland eleven stopped them on the 32. Hallowell lost the ball on downs and Rockland promptly started marching. Duff took the ball on an end run to pick up a beautiful 28 yards. The quarter ended with Rockland on Hallowell's 12 yard stripe.

P. S. Allen started the second quarter on an end sweep. He was finally knocked down on the one-yard line. On the next play the center was bad and Duff was unable to get away. It was their fourth down so Hallowell took over on their own four.

A completed pass and a few line bucks brought Hallowell to the 28 where they were forced to punt.

Rockland kicked off to start the third quarter. Sprout scooped up the ball on his own 18 and with interference started his 82-yard touchdown run. The last would-be tackler missed and he scored standing. The extra point was rushed.

In the final quarter Rockland opened up with an aerial attack; some of these forwards connecting for long gains, but the Tigers were unable to score. Rockland was still in possession of the ball when the final whistle blew.

"We Are Coming"

Poem Written Early In Civil War Applies To Situation Today

Particularly appropriate today is the poem written by James Sloan Gibbons at the time of President Lincoln's second call for troops and at the suggestion of Mrs. Amanda Cheate, a well known member of Edwin Libby Relief Corps, now in her 91st year, it is here re-published:

WE ARE COMING

We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand more, From Mississippi's winding stream and from New England's shore, at every plowshare and workshop, our wives and children dear, With hearts too full for utterance, with but a silent tear, We do not look behind us, but steadfastly before, We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand more! If you look across the hill tops that meet the northern sky, Long moving lines of rising dust your vision may desert, And now the wind, an instant, tears the cloudy veil aside, And lo! a host of our countrymen, in glory and in pride, And bayonets in the sunlight gleam, and hands brave music pour, We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand more! If you look all up our valleys, where the growing harvest shines, You may see our steady farmer boys fast forming into line; And children from their mother's knees are pulling at the weeds, And learning how to reap and sow against their country's needs; And a farewell song stands weeping at every cottage door, We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand more! You have called us, and we're coming, by Richmond's bloody tide, To lay us down, for Freedom's sake, our brother's bones beside, Or from foul treason's savage grasp to wrench the murderous blade, And in the face of foreign foes its fragments to parade, Six hundred thousand loyal men and true have gone before, We are coming, Father Abraham, three hundred thousand more!

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It's not a pleasant picture to contemplate, but War calls for "blood and sweat and tears." And the Army Medical Corps, with its efficient nurses and its volunteer Red Cross "Angels of Mercy," needs thousands of surgical beds for field and base hospitals on every front.

These beds cost approximately $22 each. They are the latest thing in modern hospital beds, with elevating springs. In some instances surgical cots are used in temporary field hospitals and there is a folding bed which may be used in ambulances. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps can buy many of these beds for the Army. You'll sleep better if you know our boys have every hospital comfort. Buy War Bonds every pay day. Invest ten percent of your income.

Cord Wood For Fuel

Director Moran Announces That Ceiling Prices Have Been Fixed

Edward C. Moran, Jr., State OPA Director, has announced a new schedule of maximum or ceiling prices for cord wood for fuel. The new schedule allows an approximate $2.50 to $3 increase in maximum prices for cord wood for fire wood in reach of the three zones into which Maine communities have been placed on a basis of information obtained by an OPA survey of the industry.

The new schedule is expected to accelerate the cutting of fire wood in Maine and is the result of complaints of operators and dealers that increased production costs and labor shortages made it impossible for them to cut fire wood profitably under the previous ceiling prices which had been fixed as of the March 1942 level.

Moran says: "OPA could not hope to raise the price of wood sufficiently to get back workers from the shipyards because to do so would result in too great a penalty to the consumer. Neither would such action be desirable," he said.

In the setting up of the fire wood ceiling price order, the State Director pointed out, due consideration has been given to the fact that fire wood cannot be sold in certain urban areas as cheaply as in rural territory.

It is recognized, the new price order states, "that this order does not remove all obstacles to the increased production of fire wood but, on the other hand, it does offer considerable alleviation without placing intolerable burdens upon the consumer and it is felt that this change in ceiling prices when supplemented by all possible efforts to cut wood on a 'volunteer' basis will go far toward assuring a reasonable supply of this type of fuel for the State."

The schedule set up by Mr. Moran is in two parts—prices at roadside available for trucking per cord, and prices delivered on the buyers' grounds per cord and per load.

Roadside maximum prices follow:

Lincoln County Stamping For Councilor Berth—Senate Presidency

The Executive Council's berth for the Fifth District, ably held the past two years by Thomas McPhail of Thomaston, will pass into new hands when Legislature convenes in January.

The district comprises Knox, Lincoln, Waldo and Hancock Counties. It will be Lincoln County's turn for '43-'44.

Active in the field at this time are ex-County Attorney Weston M. Hilton of Damariscotta, Clarence Race of Edgecomb, twice Representative to the Legislature; Dr. George A. Gregory of Boothbay Harbor, former Councilor; Forrest Bond of Jefferson, former Councilor; Herbert A. Clark of Jefferson, former Senator; A. B. Chaput of Nobleboro, County Commissioner, and Harold W. Bishop of Boothbay Harbor.

It is understood that the four members of the Lincoln County delegation will unite on a candidate the wood is split to the buyer's order or has to be made suitable for stove use.

The order provides that "On or after Oct. 5, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver in Maine any fire wood and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business in Maine any firewood at prices higher than the maximum set forth in the order."

Dealers and operators are warned not to evade by direct or indirect methods any provision of the order in connection with any transaction involving cord wood for firewood.

rather than throw the contest open to the other counties in the district.

Senate Presidency

State Senator Ralph W. Farris of Augusta, a former member of the Maine House for three consecutive terms, has formally announced that he would be a candidate for the Senate presidency when the legislature convenes in January.

Farris, a former resident of Union, was the fourth announced aspirant for the position. Senator Francis H. Friend (R. Skowhegan), who was elected president for the special session last January, was a candidate. The others, all Republicans, were Robert B. Dow of Norway and Albert B. Elliot of Thomaston.

It was expected that Senator Horace A. Hildreth (R. Cumberland), would formally announce his candidacy for the past within a week.

Mrs. M. R. Robinson and Mr. Bessie Hills were visitors Thursday at the home of Mrs. Alice Gordon. Installation schedule in District 15, of Rebekah Lodges, as announced by Mrs. Carrie R. Smith, district deputy president, are: Oct. 6, Good Luck Rebekah Lodge, Waldo; Oct. 12, Mystic Rebekah Lodge, Warren; Oct. 14, Golden Rod Rebekah Lodge, Appleton; and Oct. 15, Bethel Rebekah Lodge, Union. The first will be public, and Appleton's will be semi-public. The other two are to be private. Marshal for Mrs. Smith is Mrs. Adelle Feyler, a past district deputy.

Callers Friday at Mrs. Ad. Spear's, South Warren were Mr. Bessie Crouse, and Mrs. Florence Copeland of Thomaston, Mrs. Zen Nelson of Union, Mrs. Emma M. Wood of Warren village, Mrs. Lulu Libby and Mrs. Grace Leavitt of South Warren.

Women will meet Wednesday from 1 to 4 to make surgical dressings at the report centre building.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boggs gave a family dinner party at their home Sunday in honor of the 81st birthday anniversary of Mrs. Boggs' aunt, Mrs. I. J. Shuman of Rockland. Present were Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Mrs. Ada Spear of South Warren dined Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Libby.

Esten Blake and Miss Virginia Dow of Augusta were weekend guests of Mrs. Ellen Wellman at Maurice Wellman in West Warren. Six hundred chicks, and a p. shepherd dog perished in a blaze which leveled a brooder house, early Friday morning at Hillcrest home stead. The family was aroused at 3:30 that morning by a passing motorist and the fire department was called, but the fire had gained such headway that the building and contents were not saved. However, the fire was kept from spreading to the house and barn. The loss is estimated at $500 and there was insurance. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Misfortune did not come singly to Charles Dillaway Friday. In addition to the loss of brooder house and chickens, he crushed the little finger and ring finger of his left hand in a pulley. He was treated by Dr. Pre Campbell.

An unusual sight was that Sunday at the George Counce place in South Warren, where a swarm of wild bees had constructed a comb 24 feet from the ground on the limb of an oak tree. The comb contained ten heart-shaped sections on one side of the limb and nine on the other, the largest of which was 15 inches across. George Newbert of Thomaston, who has much experience in the handling of bees, took the comb and brood comb down, placing the latter in a hive to be wintered at the Star farm under the supervision of Will mot Dow, superintendent. The comb was found to contain between 25 or 30 pounds of fresh honey, which the bees had started to devour. Several, who knew of the phenomenon Sunday, visited the Counce place to see it.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hahn, Miss Susie Hahn and Joseph Hahn visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Pre Hahn in Gardiner.

The Baptist Women's Mission Circle will meet Wednesday at the Montgomery rooms. Members will go prepared to sew, and take their own lunches. Coffee will be served by the committee.

The Anna Foster Wide World Guild will meet this afternoon, Oct. 6, after school at the home of the counselor, Mrs. Alice Wotton. Members are reminded to take to this meeting, the Christmas cards to be sent to the Indian School in Nevada.

As To War Damage Timely Explanation Is Offered As To This Type Of Insurance

In order to afford the property owner protection against losses incident to War (a coverage not provided for under the Standard Fire Insurance Policy) the companies in co-operation with the National Government have made such possible in an attempt to preserve the public against such losses by providing a form of contract expressly for that purpose.

The contract agrees to indemnify the insured against direct physical loss or damage to the property described "which may result from enemy attack including any action taken by the Military, Naval or Air Forces Of the United States in resisting enemy attack" and is obtainable from any licensed fire insurance agent at so low a rate that ordinary caution would seem to prompt all owners of real or personal property to avail themselves of its protection.

Rates apply mainly upon three general classes—dwelling, mercantile and manufacturing, the dwelling rate being $1 per $1,000 and the other classes being quite comparable. Many have failed to provide this for themselves but the fact that in mid-September there had been reported some $80,000,000 in force would seem to indicate the serious consideration given by owners, both large and small.

Shower for Dorothy Keller

At the close of the weekly prayer meeting Wednesday, Miss Dorothy Keller was escorted to the church vestry where friends had gathered to give her a utility shower. After having a corsage pinned on her shoulder she was directed to stand beside a table and give a speech.

As if by magic, a large box appeared on the table and she proceeded to unwrap it and the many smaller packages contained therein only to find them all filled with paper and finally discovered a shower card directing her to look for a red umbrella. She returned shortly with a sunshade from which dangled numerous tags with complicated directions such as "the wheeze-box," "where the water stops," "step on it," etc.

For the rest of the evening Dot was kept busy trotting hither and yon, indoors and out, until she had found and unwrapped the last parcel and had the fine assortment displayed before her and the guests. Punch and fancy cookies were served.

Plans for the shower were made by the pastor's wife, Mrs. C. V. Overman, and came as a real surprise to the bride-to-be.

There are many known deposits of minerals in Canada and Maine, some of them of immense value. Amber, bentonite, corundum, diatomite, feldspar, graphite, mica and phosphate rocks are among these, with others of value.

It was a fine thought of the "Care of Wildlife Society" to give to all who gave a gun and a promise to let wild life live should be given a camera. This was done in some States and now that Fall hunting is near, it would be well to think it out again.

The general opinion of rubber experts is that synthetic rubber is from 15 to 30 percent better than natural rubber for average uses.

REALM OF MUSIC

by Gladys St. Clair Heistad

The introduction of a course in jazz at the New England Conservatory of Music, that conservative institution, has caused no end of tongues to wag. Ruby Newman, jazz orchestra leader, was the first one of this department to report, finding that four students had signed up for this tradition-breaking class. Mr. Newman confesses that he and his hand-picked staff of swing musicians feel pretty much like pioneers, which has prompted them to devote otherwise highly lucrative hours to giving young men and women the wealth of their professional experience. They feel it is an excellent opportunity to demonstrate their convictions that a knowledge and sound foundation in both types of music, classical and jazz, can benefit performers most advantageously. To explain this, Mr. Newman said: "The good simple effects you often hear in the latest piece are very likely picked up through study of classical music, and lots of the rhythms and muted tones in modern symphonic music have been first developed in jazz."

One point is emphatically taken—the standards in the new popular courses are to be as high as those maintained in the classical courses.

Another newcomer on the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music is known to many music devotees in this section—Boris Goldovsky, son of Mme. Luboshutz who has long been a Summer resident at Rockport. Mr. Goldovsky has also spent several Summers in Rockport and has been heard in many Camden and Rockport concerts, usually as accompanist for his mother or in ensemble work with stringed instruments. At the Conservatory he will act as supervisor of the new Opera School, his plans including the presentation of operas in English and the application of the dramatic methods of the Moscow Art Theatre. For the past six years Mr. Goldovsky has been head of the Opera Department of the Cleveland Institute of Music, and has also conducted opera classes at the Berkshire Center. Musicians who are familiar with his work tell me that he is singularly successful in this art.

The nation's leading music trade organizations have just been holding conventions in Chicago, and one thought seems to run through their statements—and that is, music should become more a part of daily life in a wartime nation. They moved to have more rousing send-offs for departing draftees, more singing in parks and public places, more band concerts to help raise money for war bonds, more group singing by soldiers wherever they are.

More music in munitions and war production factories is an especial aim of the National Association of Music Merchants. They cite the successful use of music in England and to some plants of this country where programs radiocast over loud-speaker systems helped speed up the tempo of production, helped reduce accidents and fatigue, and have boosted the morale of the workers.

Among the new records is an album put out by Keynote. It is a tribute to the Fighting Men of Norway, whose fight against the invader by underground means and abroad openly through its official government and its seamen, fliers, soldiers and sailors, has won the admiration of all the allied nations. This album contains six songs of Norwegian Freedom, and they bespeak the valor and spirit and the unflinching courage of the Norwegian people. The singing is done by the Zion Norwegian Lutheran Chorus directed by Agnes Forde. It begins with the Norwegian national anthem and follows with Martin Luther's hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," which was sung by the soldiers of Gustavus Adolphus during the Thirty Years' War.

Dr. Frank Nelson who prepared the translation of the texts of the songs and the explanatory notes for the accompanying booklet, recalls that this hymn was sung by the Norwegian people in front of the Trondheim Cathedral on Feb. 1, 1942, when the Gestapo denied the worshippers entrance to the church. It was also sung by the crowds on the docks as the "hell ship" Skjervstad carried Norwegian teachers to slave labor in the Arctic because they refused to be traitors to their calling.

The other four songs are similarly tied up with the struggle of the men and women of Norway against nazism. They are: "Vi Vil Oss et Land" (Song of Freedom), poem by Per Sivle and music by Christian Sinding; "Norske Flygere" (Norwegian Fliers) dedicated to the Royal Norwegian Air Force, which has been operating from Allied bases and which expects to lead the way back home; "Alt for Norge" (All for Norway), whose words are by Arnulf Overland, a radical poet now in a German concentration camp; it is a tribute to King Haakon VII, who has stood by the democratic traditions of his people; and "Hjemmefrontens Sang" (Song of the Home Front), an old folk tune that has acquired new words and has become the song of the underground.

A new edition of Baker's Biographical Dictionary of Musicians (fourth edition) is recently off the press. (G. Schirmer, Inc. New York City). The old articles have been revised and brought up to date, and 3,000 new items are included.

The first edition of Baker's came out 40 years ago. The original compiler and editor was Dr. Theodore Baker (1851-1934), who was in time and rank among America's first musicologists.

In "Maryland Main and the Eastern Shore" by Hubert Footner, there is an interesting bit about the original draft of the national anthem. It is this to effect—When Francis Scott Key had scribbled down the first draft of "The Star Spangled Banner" on an old envelope, he came to Annapolis to show it to his father-in-law, Judge Nicolson. After having made certain alterations at the older man's suggestion, he copied it and tossed the original in a wastebasket. Mrs. Nicolson retrieved it and stuck it in the pigeon-hole of a desk. This was in 1814. In 1857, the Nicolson place was taken into the Academy grounds and the furniture removed from the house. The old desk was in time inherited by a daughter of the family, but it was not until 1890 that the old envelope was discovered in its pigeon-hole. The discovery of the original manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner" created a furore. J. P. Morgan offered $25,000 for it, but the owner, a wealthy woman, preferred to sell it to the Walters Art Gallery in Baltimore for $2,500, where it now rests.

AND NOW—THE 15% CLUB IS HERE

It was originated by the Bell Shops, one of New England's largest chain of women's specialty shops, with a membership of over 400 employees.

Here's how it came about. In order to stimulate the purchase of War Bonds, the management of the Bell Shops offered to all employees an additional 5 percent if they contributed 10 percent of their salary toward the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps. This resulted in a complete enrollment of Bell Shop employees.

Now, every member of the Bell Shops is purchasing 10 percent of their salary in War Bonds and Stamps and receiving an additional 5 percent from the management, so that the Bell Shop employees are purchasing 15 percent in War Bonds each week.

BIRDS OF GRAY

[For The Courier-Gazette] A great gray bird with shining wings Sails gracefully through the blue. It seems to say, "Take strength, faint heart, We're watching over you."

The hum of wings comes floating down— Sweet music over all: It seems to say, "We're flying high You've naught to fear. 'Tis freedom's call."

New faith and courage seem to come We drive our cowardly doubts and fears As strength falls from the skies.

Some day another bird will fly As in that other day, With tidings of a new world Of peace that's come to stay.

TAKE THOU MY HAND

[For The Courier-Gazette] At dawn, when night breaks softly O'er the sea, And shadows flee away, Take Thou my hand and walk with me Into the coming day.

At noon, when heavy burdens press on every hand And clouds doth darkness be, 'Tis sweet to know my Saviour understands, That He still leadeth me.

At twilight, when rich tints still bathe the sky, Day's busy bustling past, Take Thou my hand and linger nigh, As night shades gather fast.

At night, when all of worldly hope and lies dormant for a time; Still unafraid I sleep, for He is near, Secure by love divine.

WE'LL WIN

[For The Courier-Gazette] Freedom's Lamp that burns with flame unquenching, Our martyred ones have died to keep this light bright.

Shall it be proven to be unavailing Their sacrifice? Oh, no, we'll win, despite the renegades, whose blood-polluted fingers

Now fasten slavery's chains on broken lives; United, we'll fight on with white creden- cial fingers

And one man loving liberty survives! Of no avail the lessons we are learning— Absurd the sleepless nights and haunting fears?

Unrequited the prayers, the tears, To see a face last visioned through their tears?

In vain do freedom's hosts now die in glory At war's each far-flung outpost of the world? Nay, when this is written to the story We'll see our stately banner still unfurled.

"We shall fight on," the pledges have been spoken By pilots, sailors, soldiers and marines, "We shall fight on," the echo comes from workers on the farms and at machines.

United, we press forward on this crusade To gain for all a sane security; Unquenchable, unrelenting, unafraid— Till faith results in ultimate victory.

Tenants Harbor Nellie M. Ervine

The World At War

Authentic Picture Begins Three-Day Showing At the Park Today

For the first time in the history of motion pictures, movie fans all over America are going to see a full-length feature film presented by the United States Government. It is called "The World At War," and it is a film that is packed with fast action, turbulent drama and stark realism, based on never-before-seen newsreels, skillfully woven into a remarkable, hard-hitting story. It starts a run at Park Theatre today, Wednesday and Thursday.

Covering the decade which led to the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor last December 7, "The World At War" traces and pictures the grim pattern of aggression of Germany, Italy and Japan. It includes secret Axis-made films, captured and confiscated by our government when we went to war. These films showing the "glories" of the Hitler regime and the terror of the Nazi reprisals, were intended to frighten the democracies into submission and to spur the Germans on to greater sacrifices.

They never succeeded in gaining their objective. Incorporated into this film, they serve only to show Mr. and Mrs. America how powerful and vital is our stake in this war and how strong and united is the cause of the Allied Nations. Among the outstanding scenes supplied by the British, Soviet and United States Governments are included the fire-bombing of London, the gallant resistance of the Russian people, the heroic tenacity of the defenders of China, the staggering picture of the American war effort.

Officers elected in Golden Rod Rebekah Lodge are: Noble grand, Carolyn Page; vice grand, Hanna Salo; recording secretary, Carrie Cummings; financial secretary, Helen Gushee; treasurer, Mabelle Keene; trustee, Edith Gurney; janitor, Helen Simpson.

Sorry To Lose Her

Ruth Hunter Trueworthy, Formerly of Rockland, Leaves School She Has Long Taught

Winnegance pupils and parents learn with regret that Mrs. Ruth Trueworthy, for 20 years teacher of the village school, is resigning her position there to accept one in Bath on the staff of teachers at the new Lieut. John E. L. Huse Memorial School which will be opened soon and which it is planned to dedicate, with appropriate ceremonies. She will teach the seventh grade in the new building.

During her long service in the Winnegance school, Mrs. Trueworthy has been popular with parents and pupils, teaching all grades through the eighth, and her pupils entering Morse High have done so with excellent ranks and preparedness. During the Fall term, which opened last month, there have been approximately 40 pupils under her direction in the little one room schoolhouse.

It is understood that Supt. Gilman has decided to divide the school into the platform system, the younger children going in the forenoon and the older ones in the afternoon—Bath Daily Times.

Mrs. Ivan Acel Trueworthy, whom the above item concerns, is the former Miss Ruth C. Hunter of Rockland. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hunter of Rockville, formerly of Rockland.
